

Flight Operations Officer - FOO (Dispatch) Course

Introduction

A flight operations officer/flight dispatcher (FOO/FD) is normally employed to provide supervision of flight and to act as a close link between aircraft in flight and the ground services, and also between the air crew and the operator's ground staff. Annex 6 – Operation of Aircraft, Part I – International Commercial Air Transport – Aeroplanes, requires that operators demonstrate an adequate organization, method of control and supervision of flight operations, training programme and maintenance arrangements consistent with the nature and extent of the operations specified.

Course Details

AeronautX provides initial as well as recurrent training for Flight Operations Officers / Flight Dispatchers according to ICAO Doc. 7192 Part D-3 and IOSA training requirements. All courses are offered as “blended courses”, combining web based training and attendance training.

The FOO Initial Course is divided into 2 modules.

Module 1

Module 1 consists of Web Based Training containing topics like Civil Air Law and Regulations, Aviation Indoctrination, Aircraft Mass and Performance, Navigation, Air Traffic Management, Meteorology and Human Factors. During this module the trainee will gain all the basic knowledge necessary to conduct the second module, the attendance training.

Module 2

Module 2 will focus primarily on Performance, Navigation, Mass and Balance and Practical Flight Planning. All learning topics of the previous module will be repeated and used interdisciplinary. This Training module can also be customized to the Operators procedures, area of operation and aircraft fleet.

A Dispatch license is required for working as a dispatcher in a commercial flight operation.

Pre entry requirements: English language knowledge

Examination: Requirement for examination is at least 1 year of practice in the dispatch of a flight operation. The examination will take place at Austro Control in Vienna.
